

A Message from the Executive Director

Music has the power to move us, challenge us, and bring us together in ways nothing else can. Our 2026-27 season, "Music, Unleashed," reflects our commitment to creating performances that are bold, inspiring, and deeply connected to the communities we serve.

At Piedmont Wind Symphony, our mission has always been bringing people together through music. This season, we continue that vision with programs that spark conversation, celebrate creativity, and invite audiences to experience music in new and meaningful ways. From powerful symphonic works to intimate chamber performances, every concert is designed to create moments of connection and shared experience.

Your support makes this possible. Because of your generosity, we can continue expanding artistic opportunities, championing innovative programming, and ensuring live music remains a vibrant force in our community.

Thank you for being an essential part of Piedmont Wind Symphony. We are honored to share this art with you.

Giving Levels & Benefits

Music, Unleashed. The Power of Connection Through Music.

At Piedmont Wind Symphony, we believe music is at its most powerful when it brings people together. Through bold performances, meaningful storytelling, and innovative artistic experiences, we create opportunities for our community to connect, reflect, and celebrate through live music.

Your support makes this possible. Every gift helps us expand access to world-class performances, champion new artistic voices, invest in music education, and create unforgettable experiences for audiences across our region. Together, we are shaping the future of wind band music while strengthening the cultural heartbeat of our community.

Join us this season as we continue to bring people together through music. Together, we can unleash the transformative power of live performance.
